

Is infection-derived immunity better than vaccine-acquired immunity?

No.

Exposure to disease to gain infection-acquired immunity can be unpredictable, causing suffering, long term complications, and even death. You can get immunity safely with vaccines.

Learn more on this topic!

View the booklet

